1.3. EI – Regional Process at a Glance

The process at a glance section provides a simple overview of the general application process for the Entrepreneur Immigration – Regional stream. Complete details of the process are described in Part 3 of this Guide. For other streams, refer to the applicable program guide.

- 1. Preparation before you register: in order to apply to the EI – Regional, you must first determine your eligibility based on the stream requirements. You may also wish to conduct a self-assessment. Then, you must identify a participating community listed on the BC PNP website. You must conduct an exploratory visit to the community to learn more about the community and to discuss your business proposal with the designated community contact. After your visit, you may request a referral from the community to be able to register under the EI – Regional stream. You must also have a valid language test results that meets the minimum language requirement of Canadian Language Benchmark (CLB) Level 4.
- 2. Registration to the BC PNP: after you receive your referral, you complete and submit an online registration to the BC PNP. The registration includes details about your work and/or business experience, education, language ability, your net worth, and information about your proposed business in British Columbia. After your registration is scored, the BC PNP will invite the highest-scoring registrants to submit full applications to the BC PNP. Registrations are typically scored within four weeks. If invited to apply, you will then have four months from the date of your invitation to submit your application.
- 3. Application to the BC PNP: submit a complete application to the BC PNP. You may be invited to attend an in-person interview in Vancouver to discuss details of your application. If your application is approved, you must sign a performance agreement that outlines all the requirements you must meet to be nominated. Applications are typically assessed within four months. If your application is approved, the BC PNP will issue you a letter of confirmation (i.e. a work permit support letter) so you may apply for a work permit to IRCC and come to B.C. to implement your business plan.
- 4. Business establishment (work permit) period: after obtaining a work permit, you can begin to implement your business plan, make your investments, and create jobs. Your spouse or common-law partner may apply for an open work permit.
- 5. Nomination: after you meet the terms and conditions of your performance agreement, you must submit a final report to the BC PNP. If the BC PNP determines you have met the terms and conditions in your performance agreement, you will be nominated for permanent residence. Final Reports are typically assessed within four months.
- 6. Application for permanent residence: you, including your spouse or common-law partner and dependent children (if applicable), may then apply to IRCC to become permanent residents of Canada under the Provincial Nominee class. For permanent residence application processing times, please refer to the IRCC website (Economic Immigration → Provincial Nominees).

- your entry will be of benefit to the economic development of B.C.
- you have the ability and intention to permanently settle and become economically established in B.C.
- the information provided in relation to your application is accurate, complete and reliable
- you will provide active and ongoing management of your eligible business from within B.C.

It is also important that you do not participate in any scheme that is not permitted by federal immigration law. To be approved, you must not have entered into, or have intended to enter into, an immigration-linked investment scheme.

In the sections below, you will learn about the specific requirements that you must meet to be eligible for the Entrepreneur Immigration – Regional stream. You can find further information about how these requirements are scored in Part 5. Note that meeting the minimum requirements does not guarantee that you will be invited to apply or that your application will be approved.

- Carefully review the requirements in the sections below for complete details.
- It is your responsibility to demonstrate that you meet the program requirements.
- For more information on how registrants will be invited to apply, please refer to the process section of this guide.
- For complete information on how registrations are scored, please refer to the EI – Regional Registration Scoring Guide.

2.1. EI – Regional: General Nomination Requirements

2.1 (A) Active Management

2.1 (B) Residency

2.1 (A) Active Management

You must demonstrate your intention to actively manage the business. To be approved for nomination, you must demonstrate that you have been actively managing the business in B.C.

Active management means you are accountable for the day-to-day operations of the business. Active management must occur while you are physically present at the place of business in B.C.

2.1 (B) Residency

You must demonstrate that you intend to reside within the boundaries of the community that has supported your EI – Regional registration and application, and you must demonstrate your intention to reside in B.C. for at least 75 per cent of the time while on a work permit.

To be approved for nomination:

- you must demonstrate that you have been living in the community as described in your performance agreement.
- you must also demonstrate that you have been physically present in B.C. for at least 75 per cent of the time while on a work permit. For example, if you submit your final report 366 days (approximately 12 months) after arriving in B.C. with your valid work permit, you must demonstrate that you have been physically present in B.C. for at least 275 days (approximately 9 months) while operating your business.

2.2. EI – Regional: Personal Requirements

2.2 (B) Personal Net Worth

2.2 (C) Business Owner-Manager and/or Senior Manager Experience

2.2 (D) Education

2.2 (E) Language Proficiency

At the registration stage, points will be awarded for personal net worth, business and/or work experience, and education. For detailed information on how points are calculated, please refer to the scoring section of this Guide. These factors will also be assessed during the application stage.

2.2 (A) Immigration Eligibility

Your application will not be approved if you are in Canada without valid immigration status, or if you are working without authorization. The BC PNP will not nominate someone who:

- is prohibited from entering Canada
- has not been lawfully admitted in the country of current residence
- is in Canada and is out of status
 - an individual whose status has expired, and who has not applied for restoration of status within the 90-day eligibility period, will be considered out of status
- is working in Canada without authorization
- has an unresolved refugee claim in Canada
- is under a removal order in or outside of Canada

2.2 (B) Personal Net Worth

You must have a minimum of $300,000 in personal net worth, which includes the personal net worth of your spouse or common-law partner, and your dependent children, if applicable. Your personal net worth must be legally obtained and verifiable.

You must disclose all your personal net worth, including all your assets and those of your spouse or common-law partner, and your dependent children, less any liabilities including mortgages and personal debts:

- cash
- assets in bank accounts (e.g., personal chequing and savings accounts)
- fixed (term) deposits (redeemable/cashable within 12 months)
- real property (e.g., real estate, personal and commercial property ownership)
- investments in bonds, stocks and mutual funds
- investments in one or more businesses (current value of your percentage ownership in business(es), excluding stocks held in investment portfolios that have been included under liquid investments above)
- pensions and other assets (i.e. jewelry, collectables, etc.)
- liabilities such as real property mortgage(s) or other debts (e.g., personal loans, credit card debt)

Future inheritances cannot be included in your personal net worth. The share of business or property ownership must be supported by legal documents, such as deeds, shareholder agreements, etc.

The IRCC form Schedule 4A – Personal Net Worth includes details about how to calculate personal net worth.

If you receive an invitation to apply:

You must obtain a net worth verification report from a BC PNP-authorized accounting firm. For more information, please refer to net worth review section of this Guide.

The verification report will be used as part of the BC PNP application assessment process. Notwithstanding the conclusions of the net worth verification report, the BC PNP has sole discretion and responsibility to assess your BC PNP application and may request additional information, supporting documentation or clarification.

Failure to declare your total personal net worth may result in the refusal of your application.

Failure to provide satisfactory evidence to verify your personal net worth and source of funds may result in the refusal of your application.

For information on what documents you must provide for a net worth verification report, please refer to the Entrepreneur Immigration Application Guide available on our BC PNP website.

2.2 (C) Business Owner-Manager and/or Senior Manager Experience

You must have a minimum of:

- more than 36 months of experience as an active business owner-manager
If you have performed an active role in the management and operations of a company for which you have held 10 per cent or more ownership during the past 60 months. An active role means that you are personally involved in the day-to-day operations of the company and have direct involvement in decision-making.

or

- more than 48 months of experience as a senior manager
If you have worked during the past 60 months for a company/organization as an active senior manager (with no business ownership, or business ownership of less than 10 per cent) supervising at least three full-time employees, and your National Occupation Classification \(NOC\) is TEER 0 or TEER 1.

or

- a combination of at least 12 months of experience as an active business owner-manager and at least 24 months (two years) of experience as a senior manager

In general, to be considered as an active owner-manager or a senior manager, you primarily:

- manage the organization, a department, subdivision, or component of the organization; or an essential function within the organization
- supervise and control the work of:
 - other managers or supervisors
 - professional employees
- have the authority to hire and fire, or recommend these and other personnel actions, such as promotion and leave authorization
- exercise discretion over the day-to-day operations of the activity or function for which the employee has the authority

An active role means that you are personally onsite and involved in the day-to-day operations of the company and have direct involvement in decision-making. For example, if you were a shareholder in a corporation and your only responsibility was to attend shareholder meetings, this would not be considered as being an active business owner-manager as you are not involved in the day-to-day operations of the company.

2.2 (D) Education

You must have one of the following:

- a post-secondary credential (such as a degree, diploma or certificate from a licensed post-secondary institution) that is recognized in Canada.

or

- experience as an active business owner-manager with 100 per cent ownership of the business for at least 36 of the past 60 months (three of the past five years). The 100 per cent ownership of the business may be shared between you, your spouse or common-law partner, and/or your dependent child(ren).

If you are invited to apply, you will be required to provide evidence of your education, and you may be required to provide an educational credential assessment, which is an independent assessment of your foreign degree, diploma, certificate or other credential. It proves that your qualification is valid and equivalent to Canadian credentials.

Language training such as English as a second language will not be considered towards meeting the post-secondary requirement.

2.2 (E) Language Proficiency

You must possess basic English or French language proficiency equivalent to Canadian Language Benchmark \(CLB\) level 4 or higher in each of the four competencies: listening, speaking, reading and writing.

A benchmark score of 4 is considered basic proficiency and means that you can:

- communicate basic needs and personal experience
- follow, with considerable effort, simple formal and informal conversations
- read a simple set of instructions in plain language
- write short messages, postcards, notes or directions

The valid language test results must be from one of the following language proficiency tests administered by a designated testing agency:

- the International English Language Testing System \(IELTS\) General Training
- the Canadian English Language Proficiency Index Program \(CELP-IP-General\)
- the Test d'évaluation de français \(TEF\)
- the Test de connaissance du français pour le Canada \(TCF Canada\)

Test results will be considered valid for 24 months from the date of issuance. Test results must be valid at the time of registration.

You are required to upload a valid language test result showing you meet the minimum requirement in your registration.

The following table shows the minimum scores that you must receive for each of the four competencies to meet the requirement of CLB 4. You must achieve the minimum score in all four competencies to be eligible.

Minimum Language Test Scores Required
	Listening	Reading	Writing	Speaking
IELTS	4.5	3.5	4.0	4.0
CELP	4	4	4	4
TEF	145	121	181	181
TCF Canada	342-374	4-5	331-368	4-5

2.3. EI – Regional: Business Requirements

- 2.3 (A) Eligible Businesses
- 2.3 (B) Ineligible Businesses
- 2.3 (C) Percent Ownership
- 2.3 (D) Franchises
- 2.3 (E) Seasonal Businesses
- 2.3 (F) Agricultural Businesses
- 2.3 (G) Businesses in Regulated Industries

At the registration stage, you must answer questions related to your business concept to describe your proposed business. Points will be awarded for your business concept, including potential for commercial viability, percentage ownership, and economic benefits. These factors will be assessed starting at the application stage and through to the nomination stage. For detailed information on how points are calculated, please refer to the scoring section of this Guide.

To qualify for the EI – Regional stream, you must propose to establish a new business in a participating community in British Columbia that aligns with one of the economic development priorities identified by the community.

If you are invited to apply, you must submit a comprehensive business plan that provides detailed information about your proposed business in B.C. For more information on required documents for an application, please refer to the Entrepreneur Immigration Application Guide available on the BC PNP website.

2.3 (A) Eligible Businesses

The BC PNP will only consider registrations to establish a new business in a participating community that aligns with one of the economic development priorities identified by the community.

Participating communities are listed on the EI Regional – Community Profiles page of the BC PNP website.

Each community has identified the kinds of businesses it wants to attract, and has defined them with North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) codes. These codes are also listed on the EI Regional – Community Profiles page of the BC PNP website. Only registrations that are aligned with these codes will be eligible.

The proposed business, which must be identified by a full six-digit NAICS code, must be operated for the primary purpose of earning profits by providing products and/or services. Additionally, your background experience must align with the proposal and the business must have strong potential for sustained commercial success.

The BC PNP does not pre-approve or endorse business proposals.

You cannot change or modify your business concept after you submit your registration. You must decide on the specific type of business you intend to establish in B.C. before you register. The business structure must be clearly defined.

2.3 (B) Ineligible Businesses

Your registration will be disqualified if you propose an ineligible business. The following kinds of businesses are ineligible under the BC PNP:

- an immigration-linked investment scheme pursuant to Provincial Immigration Programs Regulation section 6\(e\) and the Immigration and Refugee Protection Regulations \(IRPR\) section 87\(5\)\(b\) and as defined in IRPR 87(9)
- any business where the terms of investment include a redemption option pursuant to IRPR 87(6)(d)
- any business that may be a passive investment pursuant to IRPR 87(6)(c)
- bed and breakfasts, hobby farms and home-based businesses
- payday loan, cheque cashing, money changing and cash machine businesses
- pawnbrokers
- tanning salons
- DVD rental stores
- coin-operated laundries
- automated car wash operations
- scrap metal recycling
- businesses selling used goods (excluding businesses that provide value-added services such as repairs, refurbishing or recycling)
- real estate brokerage, insurance brokerage or business brokerage
- real estate development activities
- goods trading businesses (e.g. import/export), unless value-add is demonstrated
- businesses involved in producing, distributing or selling pornography or sexually explicit products or services, or providing sexually oriented services

- any other type of business that by association would tend to bring the BC PNP or the Government of British Columbia into disrepute.

2.3 (C) Percent Ownership

You must demonstrate that you will own at least 51 per cent of the business in B.C.

2.3 (D) Franchises

Franchises may be considered as eligible businesses if you can demonstrate that the proposed franchise is well-established (i.e. ability to expand, sound financial track record, and in operation for at least 60 months (5 years)). If you are invited to apply, your application must include evidence that you have received support from the franchisor to set up and operate a new franchise location.

If you are proposing to establish a new franchise location, ensure that you obtain a disclosure document from the franchisor before you decide to invest. The BC PNP may request a copy of the disclosure document at the application stage. Section 5(4) of The Franchises Act describes the requirements that the disclosure document must fulfil:

- a) prescribed financial statements;
- b) copies of all proposed franchise agreements, and other agreements relating to the franchise, to be signed by a prospective franchisee;
- c) prescribed statements that have the purpose of assisting a prospective franchisee to make informed investment decisions;
- d) other prescribed information;
- e) copies of other prescribed documents.

Please visit Starting A Franchise Business in B.C. for more information.

2.3 (E) Seasonal Businesses

The BC PNP will not consider a business proposal for a seasonal business unless you can demonstrate that you will be present in British Columbia and will perform an active management role on a year-round basis. You must also meet all other requirements outlined in this guide.

2.3 (F) Agricultural Businesses

If you are proposing to establish a new farm/agricultural business, the following additional requirements will apply:

- Your business plan should be based on or cover the issues described in the document Taking Stock: A Farm Business Planning Workbook For The Beginning Farmer prepared by the Ministry of Agriculture. For more information, refer to <https://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/industry/agriculture-seafood/business-market-development/agrifood-business-management/taking-stock>.

Your business plan must demonstrate that you have thoroughly researched the feasibility of your farming operation and have established contact with relevant local stakeholders (e.g. local officials, suppliers and service providers) who can provide support to your enterprise.

2.3 (G) Businesses in Regulated Industries

Some industries face significant regulatory requirements in Canada. While many of these highly regulated industry sectors remain eligible for the BC PNP, the entrepreneur must demonstrate that they are aware of, and will be able to meet local, provincial and federal regulatory requirements.

It is unlikely that the BC PNP will approve your application if you do not properly address the regulatory requirements of doing business in the proposed industry.

Furthermore, failure to adequately research and create a plan to address the industry's regulatory requirements may make it difficult or impossible for you to meet your performance agreement obligations.

Examples of highly regulated industries include, but are not limited to:

- Agriculture, agri-food & aquaculture
- Cannabis, tobacco, and alcohol production, distribution or retailing
- Child care, schools and educational institutions
- Financial services and trading
- Forestry and mining
- Healthcare and life sciences
- Oil and gas
- Passenger transportation
- Pharmacology
- Residential care facilities
- Telecommunications

2.4 EI – Regional: Minimum Investment Requirements

- 2.4 (A) Eligible Personal Investment
- 2.4 (B) Ineligible Investments
- 2.4 (C) Timing of your Investment
- 2.4 (D) Personal and External Financing
- 2.4 (E) Requirements at Nomination

At the registration stage, you must provide information about your proposed investments related to your business concept. Points will be awarded for your total proposed investment and eligible investment. These factors will be assessed starting at the application stage and through to the nomination stage. For detailed information on how points are calculated, please refer to the scoring section of this Guide.

2.4 (A) Eligible Personal Investment

You must make an eligible personal investment of at least $100,000 in the proposed business within 610 days (approximately 20 months) of arriving in B.C. on a BC PNP-supported work permit. The minimum eligible personal investment of $100,000 must be derived from your personal net worth.

The proposed investment must be directed toward one business location.

Eligible personal investment is the minimum required investment of eligible business expenditures, which may include:

- new equipment purchases
- leasehold improvements
- marketing costs
- regular operating expenses such as rent, wages, utilities, etc.
- start-up inventory

The eligibility of a proposed investment is determined by the BC PNP based on whether the expenditure is essential to establish and operate a new business. Consequently, total personal investment may differ from the eligible personal investment under the BC PNP.

Some investment items may not be eligible while others may be eligible with limitations:

(i) Purchase of a business vehicle:

The BC PNP will not consider the purchase of a vehicle as an eligible investment unless you can demonstrate that the vehicle is essential to the business. If you can show that it is essential, the BC PNP will consider no more than $15,000 of the purchase price of that vehicle to be part of your eligible investment.

(ii) Operating expenses:

Operating expenses refer to regular, recurring monthly expenses that are essential to business operations such as rent, wages and salaries, utilities, marketing or advertising, bookkeeping, etc.

The BC PNP may consider eligible operating expenses in the following circumstances:

- For new businesses that are not franchise locations: A maximum of six months of operating expenses.
- For a new franchise location: A maximum of three months of operating expenses.

(iii) Inventory:

For the establishment of a new business, the BC PNP may consider a reasonable amount of start-up inventory. The reasonableness of the start-up inventory is based on the industry standard, type of products, and size and scope of the proposed business.

A maximum of three months of inventory may be considered eligible.

2.4 (B) Ineligible Investments:

Ineligible investments include, but are not limited to, the following:

- cash and working capital (including reserves and contingency funds)
- wage payments made to yourself and your family members, or other business co-owners
- refundable deposits
- real estate and related fees
- purchase of an existing business or business assets
- research and development expenses
- fees and costs related to your immigration application, including:
 - immigration representative fees
 - personal net worth verification report fee
 - fees related to the preparation of review engagement financial statements
 - BC PNP application fees

These investments will not count toward your eligible personal investment. However, they may still be part of your business plan's total investment.

2.4 (C) Timing of your Investment

The BC PNP will not consider any investment made prior to the date you are invited to apply as eligible.

The BC PNP strongly discourages registrants and applicants from making any investment or financial commitment prior to signing a performance agreement with the BC PNP and obtaining a valid work permit from IRCC. Any investment made prior to obtaining approval and a valid work permit is solely at your own risk.

2.4 (D) Personal and External Financing

The BC PNP requires that you make the minimum eligible personal investment from your personal funds. You are required to provide documentation that shows the provenance (source) of your personal investment and prove that this money, as well as any subsequent personal investment in your business, was drawn from your personal funds. However, you may also use external financing from a business partner or financial institutions for investments beyond the minimum requirement.

If you need external financing in addition to your personal investment to establish your business, you must identify how you will obtain the financing and how it will be applied in your proposed investment.

2.4 (E) Requirement at Nomination

In your final report, you must be able to demonstrate that you have made the investment amount in the signed performance agreement.

2.5. EI – Regional: Job Requirements

- 2.5 (A) Minimum Job Creation Requirements
- 2.5 (B) Determining the Skill Level of Positions
- 2.5 (C) Requirements at Nomination Stage

At the registration stage, points will be awarded for your proposed number of positions you will employ and their corresponding skill levels. These factors will be assessed starting during the application stage and through to the nomination stage. For detailed information on how points are calculated, please refer to the scoring section of this Guide.

2.5 (A) Minimum Job Creation Requirements

You must create at least one new, permanent full-time equivalent (FTE) job for a Canadian citizen or permanent resident of Canada in the proposed business, within 420 days (approximately 14 months) of arriving in B.C. on a BC PNP-supported work permit.

You must also demonstrate the likelihood of supporting long-term employment of Canadians or permanent residents of Canada in the proposed business.

An FTE job means a position of at least 30 hours per week on average and 1,560 hours per year, worked by one or more employees under continuous employment. FTEs must be Canadian citizens or permanent residents of Canada.

Independent contractors will not be considered as part of your job creation requirement – only direct employees of the proposed business will be considered.

Any shareholder with 10% ownership or more of the business will not be considered as part of your job creation/maintenance requirement. FTEs must work at the primary place of business and not remotely.

Employment in British Columbia is regulated by the Employment Standards Act. For more information, please visit the Employment Standards website.

2.5 (B) Determining the Skill Level of Positions

When determining the position(s) to be created, please refer to the National Occupational Classification \(NOC\) system.

The NOC system is a classification system used by the Government of Canada to identify occupations and associated skill levels. The five-digit NOC codes also outline job duties and employment requirements.

Proposed wages for the employees must be consistent with the NOC TEER category of the positions created. For information on average wages, please refer to information on Work BC.

2.5 (C) Requirements at Nomination Stage

To be approved for nomination, you must demonstrate that you have consistently employed the required number of full-time equivalent jobs, continuously, for at least 180 days (six months) before submitting your final report.

3.1 (A) Identify participating community and research business needs

Carefully review the EI – Regional requirements detailed in this guide.

- community population
- geographic location
- contact information for the designated contact person
- economic development priorities (kinds of businesses targeted, as defined by NAICS codes)
- community description
- website and/or other information

 - Under 50,000

This map is for information purposes only. Communities shown on map may not be enrolled in the EI – Regional stream. Refer to the BC PNP website for list of participating communities.

Click here to view detailed reference maps.

3.1 (B) Conduct exploratory visit to the community

After you have identified a community and developed a business proposal that aligns with one of the economic development priorities of the community, you must contact the community (as listed on the BC PNP website) to express your interest in the EI – Regional stream and community.

You must make an exploratory visit to the community in which you intend to establish a business in B.C. before you can request for a referral from the community. You must obtain a referral in order to submit a registration to the BC PNP under the EI – Regional stream.

Each community may have its own conditions and processes. You are encouraged to learn more by contacting the community.

Tips and information: Self-assessment

A community may inquire about your background and likelihood of obtaining an invitation to apply. You may fill out the self-declared portion of your registration to obtain an estimated score, which you may provide to a community should they inquire.

You would have to fill out all sections of the registration form and then return to My Dashboard where you can print out the results. You may update and make changes to your registration including your business concept before you select Submit this registration form.

For information about creating a profile and filling out a registration, refer to the registration section. For detailed information about how points are calculated, refer to the EI – Regional Registration Scoring Guide.

During your exploratory visit, you can also:

- investigate and evaluate potential business opportunities
- update and/or refine your business proposal
- conduct market research
- make local business contacts
- connect with relevant economic development officers of the community
- learn more about living and doing business in the community, and gain a better understanding of the health care and education programs, housing, culture, recreation opportunities, and lifestyle

During your exploratory visit, you must meet with the community's Designated Contact Person (DCP) to discuss your business proposal, including your suitability. You are encouraged to develop a preliminary investment breakdown, job creation plan, and gather additional information on how to establish a commercially viable business under your management.

If you require a visitor visa (Temporary Resident Visa) to travel to Canada, you must apply online or to a Canadian visa office.

The BC PNP and participating communities will not provide a letter of support for you to obtain a Temporary Resident Visa to conduct an exploratory visit to B.C.

3.1 (C) Obtain a referral from the community

To be able to register under the Entrepreneur Immigration – Regional stream, you must obtain a referral from the supporting community.

A referral from the supporting community is a form that describes information about your proposed business in the community, including details about your exploratory visit to the community. A referral is valid for 90 days from the date of issue.

Your business proposal must be identified as a six-digit NAICS code that aligns with one of the NAICS codes selected by the community.

Communities may limit the number of referrals they issue. BC PNP reserves the right to limit the number of referrals from a specific community.

You may request a referral only after you have conducted an exploratory visit to the community and met with the designated community contact person. You may be required to meet any conditions or requirements set by the community in order to obtain a referral. If the designated community contact person determines you are a suitable candidate, the designated community contact person will fill out a referral form and provide a copy to you and to the BC PNP.

You must upload a copy of your valid referral form when you submit your online registration. If you do not upload your valid referral form in your registration, your registration will be disqualified.

3.2. EI – Regional: Registering with the BC PNP

- 3.2 (A) Registration Overview
- 3.2 (B) Creating your Profile
- 3.2 (C) Completing the Registration
- 3.2 (D) Submitting your Registration
- 3.2 (E) Registration Scoring
- 3.2 (F) Qualified Pool
- 3.2 (G) Invitation to Apply

The BCPNP Online registration system is an online registration process that is the first step to immigrating to British Columbia as an immigrant entrepreneur. As it is a points-based system, you will receive a score based on the information you provide.

Your score will determine whether you will receive an invitation to apply under the Entrepreneur Immigration – Regional stream.

The BC PNP reserves the right to make changes to the BCPNP Online registration system without prior notice, including changes to the score grids, the minimum total required in each section, the expiry of registrations in the qualified pool, and the number and frequency of registrants invited to apply.

Please check our website to ensure you are using the most up-to-date version of this guide.

3.2 (A) Registration Overview

Please carefully review EI – Regional requirements before completing your registration.

A non-refundable registration fee will be charged at the time of registration submission.

Obtaining a referral or submitting a registration is not a guarantee that you will be invited to apply.

Registrants may only have one active BC PNP registration or application at any given time.

The BC PNP reserves the right to limit the number of registrations that will be accepted in all Entrepreneur Immigration streams.

Registrations are typically scored within four weeks of submission.

3.2 (B) Creating your Profile

Before you can register, you must create a profile with BCPNP Online. This includes your personal email and home address, telephone number and passport information as well as security questions and password. You will receive an email from the BC PNP asking you to confirm your email address and password.

The BC PNP can only provide specific information about your registration and/or application if your email address was authorized in your BCPNP Online profile.

You are responsible for updating your contact information in your profile and ensuring that it is current and up to date. You should ensure that it remains current for as long as you continue to have an active registration or application with the BC PNP, so that you will receive any important messages from program staff. If you are nominated, you should continue to keep the BC PNP updated until IRCC has concluded your application for permanent residence.

Once you have completed your profile, click on the Entrepreneur Immigration button to continue the registration process, and then click on the EI – Regional button.

The BC PNP requires that the email address in your BCPNP Online Profile be your personal email address. This is to ensure you receive all correspondence relevant to your file.

3.2 (C) Completing the Registration

When you select EI – Regional, you will be directed to My Dashboard, where you can complete your registration. You must provide information in all sections, which are listed as tabs across the top of My Dashboard.

You can copy and paste from another program into text fields. Tables that require numbers will automatically calculate totals. The system will save your information when you click on any tab and when you click the Next or Previous buttons.

Tips and information

You do not need to complete the registration in one session. You may return to your registration as often as needed. Inactive profiles and registrations will be deleted after 30 days.

If you do not meet the minimum eligibility score, you will be directed to My Dashboard. Any sections where you did not meet the minimum score or sections where there was an error will be highlighted in red. You may return to those sections and correct any errors.

To avoid lost data due to system time-out or network connection issues, the BC PNP recommends that you compose your business concept in local word processing software and then paste the text into the browser field.

Once you have paid the fee and submitted your registration, you will not be able to make changes or modify any information in your registration.

3.2 (D) Submitting your Registration

Before you can submit your registration, you must upload clear scanned copies of:

- your valid referral form
- your valid language test result
- biographical page (and signature page) of your current passport
- current photograph
- use of a representative form, if applicable

Valid language test result: Submit a clear, scanned copy of the IELTS test results form, the CELPIP official score report or TEF as a PDF file. Note that the BC PNP may request an original copy of the test results if needed.

Biographical page of passport: You must provide a clear, scanned copy of the biographical page of your current passport, as a PDF file. The biographical page is the page in the passport with the name, photo, passport/travel document number, issue date, expiration date, and signature.

Current photograph: You must provide one passport style photograph taken within the last six months. Please attach the photograph as a PDF or JPG file. Spouses/common-law partners and dependants do not need to submit photographs. A guarantor is not required.

Use of a representative form: if you are using the services of an immigration representative, you must upload a scanned copy of the use of a representative form available on our website. The form must be current and signed by both you and the representative within six months before you submit your registration. For more information about using a representative, please refer to the Use of a Representative section.

After you have uploaded the required documents, you must complete the submit tab, which contains the declaration and confirmation for you and your spouse. When you select Submit this registration form, the system will calculate your section scores, based on the information you provided. The business concept section will be scored separately by the BC PNP within four weeks.

If your scores in each section meet the minimum eligibility scores, you will be directed to the electronic payment system to pay the non-refundable registration fee.

Your registration will only be submitted to the BC PNP after you have paid the registration fee. You will receive a fee payment receipt and acknowledgment.

After you complete your registration, please ensure that you have received a confirmation email that includes your BC PNP registration number. If you do not receive this email within 24 hours, please email the BC PNP at en.imm@gov.bc.ca for further instructions.

The declaration in the online registration and application requires your consent and is the legal equivalent to your signature. As the registrant, you must ensure that you have read and understood the declaration.

It is your responsibility to ensure that your email correspondence was successfully received by the BC PNP. The BC PNP recommends that you enable “delivery receipts” in your email program.

It is your responsibility to check your spam or junk folders for email correspondence from the BC PNP.

3.2 (E) Registration Scoring

The BC PNP will verify the information you provide in your registration and may adjust your self-declared score if necessary. The score grids in the EI – Regional Registration Scoring Guide provide details of how your score will be calculated.

Your registration will be assessed according to the program requirements applicable at the time that you submit your registration.

The business concept section will be scored by the BC PNP, typically within four weeks of submission. The BC PNP will verify the scoring in all sections to finalize your registration score.

Certain sections of the registration have minimum eligibility scores. You must meet the minimum scores in each section to be entered into the qualified pool.

The minimum total score to be entered into the qualified pool is 105.

EI – Regional Scoring Overview
Scoring Sections		Points
Self-declared	Experience & Ownership	24
	Net Worth	6
	Total Personal Investment	10
	Jobs	15
	Community Population	6
	B.C.'s Regions	12
	Adaptability	67
Self-declared SUBTOTAL score		140
Business concept	Commercial Viability	30
	Transferability of Skills	15
	Economic Benefits	15
Business concept SUBTOTAL score		60
Maximum Score Available		200

3.2 (F) Qualified Pool

Upon completion of the registration scoring, you will receive an email from the BC PNP indicating your total score and whether you have met minimum requirements to be entered in the qualified pool. You will be able to view your registration score, including scores for each section, on BC PNP Online.

Registrations that meet the total minimum points in every section and the minimum total score of 105 will be entered into the qualified pool. Registrations in the qualified pool are valid for 180 days (approximately 6 months). If you are not invited to apply to the BC PNP within 180 days of qualifying, your registration will expire.

3.2 (G) Invitation to Apply

(i) Prioritization of Qualified Registrants in the Pool

Periodically, the BC PNP will invite registrants from the qualified pool to apply. If you have entered the qualified pool, your final registration score will be ranked along with other registrants in the EI-Regional stream.

The selection of registrants to receive an invitation to apply will be based on the ranking of the pool members, provided that the BC PNP may apply additional factors to modify the selected registrants in order to achieve program objectives, including:

- distribution of applicants across participating communities
- the length of time that qualified registrants have spent in the pool

(ii) Invitation to apply

If you are invited to apply under the EI – Regional stream, you will receive an email notification including:

- instructions on how to complete an EI – Regional application
- list of authorized accounting firms for the verification of your net worth
- timelines for application submission

You will have up to 120 days (approximately four months) from the date of invitation to submit a complete application. This allows you time to finalize your business plan and obtain a verification report of your net worth from a BC PNP-authorized accounting firm.

If you receive an invitation to apply, your registration will be removed from the qualified pool.

If you select the 'decline' button on BC PNP Online, your invitation to apply will be declined and your registration and invitation will be cancelled. Your profile will remain active. You may submit a new registration at any time. However, re-registration does not guarantee another invitation to apply. Registration fees will not be refunded for users who decline an invitation to apply.

The number and frequency of invitations to apply is based on annual nomination allocations and the BC PNP's processing capacity to ensure timely processing of applications.

It is important that your application remains consistent with the information provided in your registration. The BC PNP may refuse your application if the information in your application is materially different from your registration.

Information about invitations to apply, including previous invitation dates, numbers of invitations issued, additional factors used to identify candidates who will receive invitations, and minimum required scores, are posted on the invitations to apply page of our website.

Receiving an invitation to apply does not guarantee that your application will be approved.

(iii) What if I am not invited to apply?

Becoming a qualified registrant in the pool does not guarantee that you will be invited to apply.

If you are not invited, you may wish to improve your score by developing a new business concept, conducting more research into the business environment in B.C., or improving your adaptability and submitting a new registration.

You can only have one active registration at any one time. If you are submitting a new registration, you must first withdraw any registration currently in process.

3.3. EI – Regional: Applying to the BC PNP

- 3.3 (A) Net Worth Review
- 3.3 (B) Submitting your Application
- 3.3 (C) Application Processing Fee
- 3.3 (D) Application Assessment
- 3.3 (E) Interview
- 3.3 (F) Performance Agreement

3.3 (A) Net Worth Review

Before you can submit your application, you must obtain a verification report of your personal net worth from a BC PNP-authorized accounting firm.

(i) What is an “authorized accounting firm”?

You must engage a BC PNP-authorized professional accounting firm to verify your total personal net worth and accumulation of funds before you submit your application to the BC PNP.

An authorized accounting firm is a professional chartered accounting services supplier, who is qualified by the BC PNP, that will complete a verification report of your total personal net worth.

(ii) Where can I find the list of “authorized accounting firms”?

The list of authorized accounting firms and instructions is included with the invitation to apply.

(iii) How does it work?

- (a) You must have received an invitation to apply before you engage an authorized accounting firm.
- (b) You must enter into an agreement with an authorized accounting firm as soon as possible to complete a review of your total personal net worth. You are responsible for all costs associated with this service.

- (c) You must declare all of your personal net worth and provide supporting documents to the authorized accounting firm. Your personal net worth includes your spouse or common-law partner, and dependent children, if applicable.
- (d) The authorized accounting firm will review your net worth claims and your accumulation of funds through an analysis of your supporting financial documentation. The authorized accounting firm will produce a verification report of your total personal net worth and its legal accumulation. The report will outline the amount that is verifiable, and whether there are any issues that may require further investigation by the BC PNP. The authorized accounting firm may contact you to request additional information.
- (e) When the review is complete, the authorized accounting firm will send you and the BC PNP a copy of the net worth verification report. You will submit your copy to the BC PNP as an upload.

(iv) What will I need to provide?

You must provide the authorized accounting firm with:

- a completed IRCC Schedule 4A Personal Net Worth form, and
- the Section J - Accumulation of Wealth Narrative from the Schedule 4A form
- all supporting documentation identified in the Entrepreneur Immigration Application Guide available on the BC PNP website

You are responsible to provide a complete account of your personal net worth and source of funds.

All documents not in English must include copies of certified translations. The copy of the document in the original language and the translation must both be notarized.

Failure to declare your total personal net worth may result in the refusal of your application.

Failure to provide satisfactory evidence to verify your net worth and source of funds may result in the refusal of your application.

(v) What are the details?

The cost of obtaining a verification report will depend on which authorized accounting firm you choose, and the extent and complexity of your net worth.

The amount of time it takes to evaluate your financial documentation and prepare a verification report will vary. However, the authorized accounting firm may take up to 60 days to complete a verification report. Various factors can affect the timing, such as the volume of financial documentation you provide, and the processing capacity of the authorized accounting firm.

The net worth verification report is valid for 12 months from the date of issuance by the authorized accounting firm.

The verification report will be used as part of the BC PNP application assessment process.

Notwithstanding the conclusions of the net worth verification report, the BC PNP has sole discretion and responsibility to assess your BC PNP application and may request additional information, supporting documentation or clarification.

Do not engage an authorized accounting firm until you have received your invitation to apply from the BC PNP.

3.3 (B) Submitting your Application

You will have up to 120 days (approximately four months) from the date you are invited to apply to submit a complete application, including a verification report of your net worth, all supporting documents, and a comprehensive business plan.

Your application must be submitted through BC PNP Online (refer to your Invitation to Apply and BC PNP Online for instructions). A maximum of 50 attachments can be uploaded to your application. Attachments cannot exceed 3MB each; reduce your file sizes and merge files according to type of document.

For more information on submitting your application, including a Business Plan Guide, refer to the Entrepreneur Immigration Application Guide available on the BC PNP website.

Your business plan must demonstrate:

- the proposed business is consistent with your registration business concept; and
- potential for commercial viability under your ownership, including a market entry strategy to show how your proposed business will be successful in British Columbia.

The BC PNP may refuse your application if the information in your application is materially different from what you submitted in your registration.

3.3 (C) Application Fee

A non-refundable application fee will be charged at the time of application submission.

3.3 (D) Application Assessment

After a review of your application, the BC PNP may have concerns about its content. If that happens, the BC PNP will offer you an opportunity to respond to any concerns. After considering your response, the BC PNP may refuse your application. Alternatively, you may be invited to continue in the assessment process, even if the BC PNP's concerns have not yet been fully resolved. Please note that any specific concerns discussed in this part of the process may continue to be raised as you move forward to subsequent steps.

Throughout the assessment of your BC PNP Entrepreneur Immigration application, your business plan must be consistent with your registration. If a finding of material difference is made by a Program Advisor, your application may be refused.

A failure to provide a timely and satisfactory response to all concerns raised may result in refusal of your application.

Your application may be refused if the BC PNP determines you made a misrepresentation, which can include providing false or misleading information or concealing relevant information about your application including during your interview.

3.3 (E) Interview

If requested by the BC PNP, you will be required to attend an interview. In the interview, you will be expected to describe your business/work experience and answer in-depth questions about your application.

The interview will also be an opportunity to address any concerns that are raised.

A decision on your application will be based on the information you provide up to and during your interview. At the discretion of the BC PNP, you may be asked to submit additional information after your interview if it is needed to finalize a decision on your application. The BC PNP will not accept new or additional information submitted after your interview unless it has been requested.

Interviews are conducted in English only. If you are unable to communicate in English, you must obtain the services of a certified court interpreter. This is to ensure you will be able to clearly communicate to BC PNP program staff. You must submit a Use of an Interpreter form with a copy of the interpreter's certification a minimum of ten days prior to your scheduled interview.

A certified court interpreter is a member of the Society of Translators and Interpreters of BC \(STIBC\) or a society belonging to the Canadian Translators, Terminologists and Interpreters Council \(CTTIC\).

The interpreter provides direct interpretation during the interview and will not assist you to respond to questions in any way other than direct interpretation of questions and answers.

Your spouse or common-law partner and/or your authorized immigration representative, if applicable, may attend the interview in an observer capacity.

No one else is permitted to be present during the interview.

Attending an interview does not guarantee that your application will be approved.

3.3 (F) Performance Agreement

You will be required to sign a performance agreement before your application is approved. The performance agreement outlines the terms and conditions you must meet to be considered for nomination.

Performance agreements are unique to each applicant and are based on the information provided in the application, business plan, and during the interview. You must immediately inform the BC PNP of any changes in your situation that might affect your ability to meet the conditions of your performance agreement.

The performance agreement typically includes:

- type of business and location
- eligible investment amounts
- the number and type of positions to be created for Canadians or permanent residents
- active management requirement
- residency requirements
- timeframes within which you must meet these requirements

Important: Failure to meet the terms and conditions of your signed performance agreement within the timeframes may result in a refusal at the nomination stage.

Please note that the performance agreement does not replace any of the normal permits or licences that you are required to obtain to run a business in British Columbia. It is your responsibility to ensure that you obtain any required licences from Provincial or municipal authorities.

3.4. EI – Regional: Business Establishment

3.4 (A) Arrival

3.4 (B) Building your Business in B.C.

3.4 (C) Work Permit Extensions

3.4 (D) Post-Arrival Progress Check-In

Once you have signed a performance agreement, the BC PNP will issue you a letter of confirmation (i.e. work permit support letter), which will allow you to apply to IRCC for a work permit. This permit will enable you and your dependants to move to B.C. so you can start implementing your business plan. The letter of confirmation is valid for 90 days (approximately three months).

A work permit is the official document issued by the Government of Canada that allows a foreign national to work legally on a temporary basis in Canada. The length of the temporary work permit may vary at the discretion of IRCC, but is usually two years.

You must apply for your work permit prior to the expiry date on your letter of confirmation. Your spouse or common-law partner will be eligible to apply for an open work permit, and your dependent child(ren) will be eligible for study permits to attend elementary or secondary school (if applicable).

At its discretion, the BC PNP may issue a maximum of two letters of confirmation. In general, the BC PNP will issue such a letter if you have less than six months left on your current work permit and you are able to demonstrate that you are making progress on establishing your business.

3.4 (A) Arrival

After you sign your performance agreement, you must arrive in B.C. with your valid work permit within 365 days (12 months) from the date of your letter of confirmation. The date you arrive in Canada and are issued your work permit (the “date issued” on your Government of Canada work permit) is your “Commencement Date” for purposes of your performance agreement. Any subsequent milestones mentioned in your performance agreement are calculated from that date, such as due dates for the Arrival Report and the Final Report.

If you do not arrive in B.C. within the 365-day period from the date of your letter of confirmation, your BC PNP application may be closed and no further immigration support from the province will be provided.

You must submit an arrival report to the BC PNP within 60 days of arriving in B.C. with your valid work permit, or, from the date your performance agreement was signed, whichever is later. The arrival report provides basic information about your updated contact information in B.C., your work permit, and whether you transferred the requisite funds into a financial institution in B.C. Your arrival report must be submitted through My Dashboard.

After you arrive in B.C. with your valid work permit, you are encouraged to meet with your community's Designated Contact Person (DCP) to:

- discuss your progress in establishing your business
- get help with settlement issues such as housing, schooling for your dependent child(ren), and if applicable, obtaining language training or securing business support services

Refer to the Entrepreneur Immigration Post-Arrival Guide available on the BC PNP website for more information.

3.4 (B) Building your Business in B.C.

Once you arrive in B.C. with your valid work permit, you will have up to 610 days (approximately 20 months) to implement your business plan, actively manage your business, and satisfy the terms and conditions of your signed performance agreement.

You are not permitted to vary any terms of the performance agreement. If you believe that you will not be able to meet the terms of the performance agreement, you must contact our office with a detailed explanation of the difficulties you are experiencing.

3.4 (C) Work Permit Extensions

If your work permit is due to expire within 180 days (approximately six months), you must contact en.imm@gov.bc.ca to request a work permit support letter, which will allow you to apply to IRCC to extend your work permit. The BC PNP may request evidence to confirm you are meeting the terms of your signed performance agreement.

For information on the process for extending your work permit, refer to IRCC's website.

3.4 (D) Post-Arrival Progress Check-In

Six to eight (6 to 8) months after you arrive, your community's DCP will connect with you to see how your business establishment and operation is going. This check in is an opportunity for you to ask questions and for your DCP to connect you with business and family support services that may help you as you establish your business and get settled in your new community.

Based on this interaction, your DCP will file a report to update the BC PNP on the progress you are making as you work to establish your business.

3.5. EI – Regional: Nomination

3.5 (A) Final Report

3.5 (B) Conditions of Nomination

3.5 (C) Nomination

To be approved for nomination, you must demonstrate you have met the terms and conditions of your performance agreement by submitting a final report to the BC PNP.

3.5 (A) Final Report

You must submit a final report to the BC PNP between 366 to 610 days (approximately 12 to 20 months) after the issuance date of your valid work permit.

The final report contains the form and the supporting documents that you must submit when you apply for nomination. Your final report must be submitted on BC PNP Online. A maximum of 50 attachments can be uploaded to your application. Attachments cannot exceed 3MB each. Reduce your file sizes and merge files according to type of document.

In your final report, it is your responsibility to demonstrate to that you have met the terms and conditions described in your signed performance agreement. You must submit all required supporting documents, as outlined in the Entrepreneur Immigration Post-Arrival Guide available on the BC PNP website. This includes one full year of financial statements for the business that have undergone review engagement by a Chartered Professional Accountant (CPA). The CPA cannot have any real or perceived conflict of interest.

The BC PNP will review and evaluate your final report, and may at its discretion, request additional information, conduct a site visit at your B.C. business, and/or may require that you be available for an interview to obtain information about your business establishment and assess your eligibility for nomination.

You must be physically present in Canada when the final report is submitted, and you must commit to remain in Canada until a nomination decision is rendered by a program advisor.

If you fail to meet the terms and conditions of the performance agreement during the mandatory timeframes, your application may be refused at the nomination stage and your file will be closed.

Your application may be refused if the BC PNP determines you made a misrepresentation, which can include providing false or misleading information or concealing relevant information about your application in your final report.

You may only submit one final report.

Please refer to the Entrepreneur Immigration Post-Arrival Guide available on the BC PNP website for more information.

3.5 (B) Conditions of Nomination

If the BC PNP is satisfied that you have met your performance agreement terms and approves your nomination, you will be required to sign and submit a Conditions of Nomination declaration. This document sets out the conditions you must continue to meet while your federal application for permanent residence is in process.

Failure to submit a declaration or to maintain the conditions it identifies may result in the BC PNP cancelling your nomination.

It is a condition of your nomination that you are not at any time:

- prohibited from entering Canada
- under a removal order in or outside of Canada
- working in Canada without authorization
- working in Canada for any business or employer other than the business for which you have been nominated

It is a condition of your nomination that you must:

- meet the terms outlined in the signed declaration of nomination, including the agreed upon nature of business operations, business location, ownership percentage, job creation and/or job maintenance, residency requirement, as well as your ongoing and active management of the business
- operate the business in a manner consistent with any required permit, licence, approval or other legal or regulatory requirements
- maintain legal authorization to work in Canada, or if status has expired, be able to demonstrate that an application for restoration of status within the 90-day eligibility period has been submitted
- comply with the requirements of Immigration and Refugee Protection Regulations section 87, and Provincial Immigration Programs Regulation subsection 6(g).

In order to continue to effectively support your nomination as you apply for permanent residence, the BC PNP needs to ensure that it has accurate, up-to-date information about your circumstances. You must inform the BC PNP in a timely manner if there is a change in your circumstances, including but not limited to:

- change in business operations including ownership percentage change
- change in business location
- change in residential address
- change in marital status or number of dependants
- change in immigration status
- refusal of a Work Permit and/or refusal of a Temporary Resident Visa
- absence from B.C. for more than 3 weeks

You must provide any information requested by the BC PNP to verify that conditions of nomination continue to be met. Failure to abide by the conditions of nomination, including failure to provide requested information, may result in the cancellation of your nomination.

If the BC PNP determines that you provided false or misleading information to the BC PNP, before or after nomination, your nomination may be cancelled.

3.5 (C) Nomination

Once your signed Conditions of Nomination declaration has been received by the BC PNP, you will be issued a confirmation of nomination as a provincial nominee.

The nomination will allow you and your eligible dependent family members to apply for permanent residence to IRCC under the Provincial Nominee Class.

Please note that the age(s) of your dependent children, if any, are locked in for the purpose of federal immigration requirements at the time you submit your registration to the BC PNP. For more information on federal requirements regarding the age of dependent children, please see IRCC's website.

3.6. EI – Regional: After Nomination

3.6 (A) Applying for Permanent Residence

3.6 (B) Work Permit Extensions After Nomination

3.6 (A) Applying for Permanent Residence

As explained in the previous section, provincial nominees can apply to IRCC for permanent residence under the Provincial Nominee Class. Your confirmation of nomination is valid for 180 days (approximately six months). You must apply for permanent residence prior to the expiry date on your confirmation of nomination.

IRCC will assess your application for permanent residence to ensure you meet the security and admissibility requirements, including medical and security checks, and that you continue to meet the requirements of the Provincial Nominee class.

If IRCC approves your application, you will be issued a permanent resident visa.

For more information on applying for permanent residence and processing times, please visit IRCC's website.

IMPORTANT: The BC PNP has no jurisdiction over whether or not IRCC will grant you permanent residence status in Canada. IRCC is the final decision-making authority on whether to issue you a permanent resident visa.

IRCC may request additional information related to your application to ensure you continue to meet the conditions of nomination.

3.6 (B) Work Permit Extensions After Nomination

If you have already applied for permanent residence and your work permit is due to expire within 180 days (approximately six months), the BC PNP will continue to provide work permit support as necessary.

IRCC and/or the BC PNP may request evidence to confirm you continue to meet the conditions of your nomination.

For more information about processing times for applying for a work permit, please visit IRCC's website.

Part 4: General Program Information

Sections:

- 4.1. Withdrawing your Registration or Application
- 4.2. BC PNP Cancellation of your Nomination
- 4.3. Request for Review
- 4.4. Misrepresentation
- 4.5. Refusal to Accept an Application or Registration
- 4.6. Use of a Representative
- 4.7. Definitions

4.1. Withdrawing your Registration or Application

You may withdraw your registration through BC PNP Online. Registration fees are non-refundable.

You may request a withdrawal of your application at any time by contacting the BC PNP at en.imm@gov.bc.ca. Application fees are non-refundable.

4.2. BC PNP Cancellation of your Nomination

The BC PNP may cancel your nomination if you are found to have misrepresented, if you do not meet conditions to which you have agreed, or if you no longer meet the eligibility criteria for either the EI-Base stream or for admissibility to Canada as a permanent resident.

Your nomination may be cancelled under section 6 of the Provincial Immigration Programs Act if you have:

- failed to comply with your conditions of nomination
- failed to inform the BC PNP of a material change
- obstructed or interfered with an inspection
- retained a paid representative who is not qualified under the Act
- provided false or misleading information

The decision to cancel your nomination is not subject to review under section 7 of the Act.

Examples where an approval or nomination may be cancelled include, but are not limited to:

- information provided in your application to the BC PNP was false or misleading
- the conditions of nomination under which you were nominated are no longer being met:
 - for example, you have not maintained the terms and conditions of your performance agreement, including but not limited to: business type, business location, ownership percentage, job creation, investment, as well as the ongoing and active management of the business
- you are no longer residing in B.C. and are, therefore, no longer eligible for the BC PNP
- you are in Canada and are out of status
 - if your status has expired, and you cannot demonstrate you have applied for restoration of status within the 90-day eligibility period, you will be considered out of status
- you are working in Canada without authorization
- you are under a removal order in or outside of Canada

4.3. Request for Review

If the BC PNP refuses an application (i.e. declined under section 4\(1\)\(b\) of the Act), that person has a right to request a review of the decision.

The purpose of a review is to determine whether the original decision was based on a fair process, and was within the range of decisions that could be reasonably supported by the evidence before the decision maker on the basis of the program criteria at the time of the decision.

An applicant may only submit a request to review a decision issued by the BC PNP (i.e. not decisions issued by IRCC). The review process is limited to the following types of BC PNP decisions:

- Entrepreneur Immigration registration disqualifications
- Entrepreneur Immigration - stage 1 - application refusals
- Entrepreneur Immigration - stage 2 - nomination refusals

All requests for a review of a decision must be made within 30 calendar days of the date of the decision notice if the applicant is a resident in Canada, or 60 calendar days of the date of the decision notice if the applicant is not a resident in Canada. Please note that if you are currently living in Canada, the BC PNP will consider you to be a resident of Canada and you must submit your request for review within 30 calendar days.

A person whose approval has been cancelled under section 6 of the Act is not entitled to have that decision reviewed by the BC PNP under the internal review process set out in section 7 of the Act.

The request for review must:

- be in writing and must be submitted through BCPNP Online
- identify the grounds for the request
- provide any information the BC PNP requests
- pay the non-refundable request for review application fee

A review is not a chance to submit new evidence or re-argue the evidence submitted in your application. Being unsatisfied with the final decision or a component of the decision is not sufficient grounds to vary or reverse a decision.

Important information for those who choose to submit a request for review:

- Only the applicant named on the decision notice may request a review.
- The residential address provided in the online request for review form must be the applicant's current residential address. Forms that list the authorized representative's address will be considered incomplete and will not be processed.
- The applicant is responsible for outlining how the decision was unreasonable or procedurally unfair. The review will be based on the information provided by the applicant.
- The review will be conducted on the basis of the program criteria and evidence available at the time the application was declined.
- You will receive an e-mail confirming your request has been received.

Request for Review: Decision

As soon after receiving a review request as it is practical to do so, the BC PNP must review the decision and either:

- confirm the original decision, or
- cancel the decision and re-evaluate the application

Reviewed decisions are final decisions under the Act and Regulation. Subsequent requests for review, or requests for review submitted outside of the applicable 30- or 60-day periods, cannot be accepted.

4.4. Misrepresentation

Misrepresentation is the action of providing false or misleading information and/or withholding or concealing information where the withholding or concealing tends to create a false or misleading impression of the circumstances. It is one of the reasons why a registration or application may be refused or a nomination may be cancelled.

If an applicant and/or representative withholds, conceals, and/or provides information or documentation that they knew or ought to have known to be false in support of a BC PNP application, they have misrepresented.

Examples of misrepresentation include:

- submitting false or misleading information in an application or registration;
- failing to disclose information relevant to an application or registration;
- communicating directly or indirectly, by any means, false or misleading information, or concealing relevant information, in any communication with the BC PNP or otherwise during the assessment processes for registrations and applications

Registrations and applications will not be approved when the BC PNP determines that the information provided has been altered, overstated or is purposefully misleading for the purpose of meeting program requirements or for the purpose of obtaining a higher registration score.

A finding of misrepresentation can be applied to a registrant or applicant. If you have been found to have misrepresented information in your registration or application, the BC PNP may refuse to accept a future registration or application from you for up to two years.

4.5. Refusal to Accept an Application or Registration

The BC PNP may refuse to accept a new application or registration if:

- an invitation for an application does not apply to that person
- the person has retained a representative who does not meet the prescribed requirements, as described in section 4 of the Provincial Immigration Programs Regulation
- the applicant has had a previous approval cancelled by the BC PNP
- the applicant has, in the two years immediately before the date of the application, been found by the BC PNP to have made a misrepresentation in a previous application
- the applicant has another active application with the BC PNP or an active Entrepreneur Immigration registration with the BC PNP.

4.6. Use of a Representative

- 4.6 (A) Declaration and Consent
- 4.6 (B) Authorized Paid Representatives
- 4.6 (C) Unpaid Representatives
- 4.6 (D) Changing Representatives
- 4.6 (E) Complaints Against a Representative

You are not required to use a paid or unpaid representative – such as an immigration consultant or lawyer – to register and/or apply to the BC PNP. The program is designed for you to be able to complete the process on your own if you choose to do so.

The BC PNP scores all registrations for each stream under their respective criteria, and, if invited to apply, the BC PNP assesses all applications equally, regardless of whether they were prepared with the assistance of a representative. Your registration or application will not receive special attention, faster processing, or a more favourable outcome if it is submitted using the services of a representative.

Some applicants choose to use a representative to provide immigration advice or to assist with the process.

You must disclose if you have received assistance in preparing your registration and/or application from a person who is compensated or receives a benefit as a result of such assistance. Failure to declare such assistance may result in the refusal of the application or disqualification of the registration.

A representative is authorized to act on your behalf with the BC PNP. If you pay someone to act as your representative, they must meet the requirements for authorized representatives stated below in Section 4.6 (B).

4.6 (A) Declaration and Consent

By completing the BC PNP use of a representative form, you have authorized the individual named on the form to represent you and act on your behalf with the BC PNP. This may include representation throughout the registration, application and assessment processes, and communication with program staff as required, including disclosure of personal or confidential information to your representative.

The legal declaration in the online registration or application is your legal signature. If your representative enters the registration or application on your behalf, you should review the information provided as you will be legally responsible for the accuracy of the form contents. BCPNP Online uses your personal email as the unique personal identifier for your profile. The email and contact information provided in your profile will be associated with the application in the system and will be used by BC PNP staff for communication of final decisions.

At its discretion, the BC PNP may contact you directly to request additional evidence or information to verify information in your registration and/or application, and to determine if you meet or continue to meet all program requirements.

The BC PNP will not communicate with any unauthorized third-party regarding your registration or application.

4.6 (B) Authorized Paid Representatives

In selecting a paid immigration representative, the BC PNP highly recommends that applicants confirm with their potential representative that they are members in good standing with their professional organization.

The Act and Regulation restricts payment for representation to groups defined by section 91(2) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act:

- immigration consultants who are full members in good standing of the College of Immigration and Citizenship Consultants \(CCIC\)
- lawyers who are members in good standing of the Law Society of BC or another Canadian Law Society, the Nova Scotia Barristers' Society, or the Chambre des notaires du Quebec.

4.6 (C) Unpaid Representatives

You may use the services of an unpaid representative to act on your behalf. Unpaid representatives may include persons authorized under the Act and Regulation (see above), family members, friends, and members of non-governmental or religious organizations.

The BC PNP only considers third-party representatives as unpaid if they do not charge fees or receive any other compensation or benefit for providing immigration advice or related services.

If your unpaid representative is found by the Province to have charged fees for, or otherwise benefited from, acting as your representative, the Province will revoke that person's eligibility to serve as your representative and may decline/cancel your application/approval to the BC PNP.

If you select an unpaid representative who also provides immigration advice to others for a fee, the BC PNP highly recommends that you confirm that your potential representative is a member in good standing of one of the organizations listed in 4.6 (B), and that they have not been found by the BC PNP to have made a misrepresentation within the last two years.

4.6 (D) Changing Representatives

If you change representatives or decide to no longer be represented, you must provide notification to the BC PNP. Failure to declare a change in representative may result in the refusal of your application.

The BC PNP will communicate with the representative indicated in your profile. If you decide to change or remove your authorized representative, you must update this information in the My Representative tab on BC PNP Online.

You are responsible for ensuring your profile is updated to reflect changes in representatives.

You may only have one representative at any given time.

If you wish to change your representative during the BC PNP registration and/or application process, you must update the information in the My Representative tab on BC PNP Online and submit a use of a representative form allowing your new representative to represent you and allow the BC PNP to disclose information to them.

Filing a new use of a representative form will automatically cancel any previously appointed representative.

4.6 (E) Complaints Against a Representative

If you have a complaint about your representative, whether paid or unpaid, you may submit a complaint to the appropriate regulatory body:

- If your authorized representative is a member of CICC
- If your authorized representative is a member of the Law Society of British Columbia
- If your authorized representative is a member of another Canadian Law Society, the Nova Scotia Barristers' Society, or the Chambre des notaires du Quebec, contact the applicable professional organization.

You may wish to refer to the IRCC website, which contains a lot of information about using immigration representatives.
